(PUBLIC ACT—No. 41.)

An Act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government for the year ending the 30th of June, 1863, and additional appropriations for the year ending the 30th of June, 1862.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following sums be and the same are hereby appropriated, for the objects hereafter expressed, for the fiscal year ending the 30th June 1863, viz:

SURVEY OF THE COAST.

For the survey of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States (including compensation of civilians engaged in the work, and excluding pay and emoluments of the officers of the army and navy, and petty officers and men of the navy employed on the work) one hundred and seventy eight thousand dollars.

For continuing the survey of the western coast of the United States (including the compensation of civilians engaged in the work), one hundred thousand dollars.

For continuing the survey of the Florida reefs and keys (including compensation of civilians engaged in the work, and excluding pay and emoluments of officers of the army and navy, and petty officers and men of the navy employed on the work) eleven thousand dollars.

For publishing the observations made in the progress of the survey of the coast of the United States (including compensation of civilians employed in the work), five thousand dollars.

For repairs of steamers and surveying schooners used in the coast survey, five thousand dollars.

To supply deficiency in the fund for the relief of sick and disabled seamen, two hundred thousand dollars: Provided that the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to rent either of the several marine hospitals to the proper authorities of the cities, towns or counties in which said hospitals are located, and contract with the said authorities for the relief of the sick and disabled seamen entitled to relief under the act of 3d May, 1862, and in cases of infectious diseases, to make such regulations for their relief as he deems expedient.

For the discharge of such miscellaneous claims, not otherwise provided for, as shall be admitted in due course of settlement at the Treasury, five thousand dollars.

LIGHTHOUSE ESTABLISHMENT.

For the Atlantic, Gulf, and Lake coasts, viz:

For supplying the lighthouses and beacon lights with oil, glass chimneys, wicks, and other necessary expenses of the same, repairing and keeping in repair the lighting apparatus, one hundred and fifty four thousand six hundred and ninety eight dollars and eighty cents.

For repairs and incidental expenses, refitting and improving all the lighthouses and buildings connected therewith, one hundred and two thousand two hundred dollars.

For salaries of 596 keepers of lighthouses and light beacons and their assistants, two hundred and thirteen thousand one hundred and ninety two dollars and thirty-three cents.

For salaries of forty-three keepers of light vessels, twenty-two thousand nine hundred dollars.

For seamen's wages, repairs, supplies, and incidental expenses of forty five light-vessels, one hundred and seventy thousand nine hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seventy cents.

For expenses of raising, cleaning, painting, repairing, removing, and supplying losses of beacons and buoys, and for chains and sinkers for the same, one hundred and twelve thousand three hundred and fifty dollars.

For expenses of visiting and inspecting lights and other aids to navigation, two thousand dollars.

FOR THE COASTS OF CALIFORNIA, OREGON, AND WASHINGTON.

For supplying nineteen lighthouses and beacon lights with oil, glass chimneys, chamois skins, polishing powder, and other polishing materials, transportation, expenses of keeping lamps and machinery in repair, publishing notices to mariners of change of aids to navigation, seventeen thousand two hundred and seventy dollars.

For repairs and incidental expenses of nineteen lighthouses and buildings connected therewith, ten thousand dollars.

For salaries of forty-three keepers and assistant keepers of lighthouses, at an average not exceeding eight hundred dollars per annum, twenty five thousand dollars.

For expenses of raising, cleaning, painting, repairing, removing, and supplying losses of floating buoys and beacons, and for chains and sinkers for the same, and for coloring and numbering all the buoys, ten thousand dollars.

For maintenance of the vessel provided for by the act of 18th August, 1856, for transportation of supplies and materials, and for repairs of lighthouses, and buoys service, and for inspecting purposes, thirty thousand dollars.

For commutation of fuel and quarters for officers of the army service on lighthouse duty, the payment of which is no longer provided for by the quartermaster's department, five thousand two hundred and thirty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents.

For compensation of two inspectors of customs acting as superintendents for the life saving stations on the coasts of Long Island and New Jersey, three thousand dollars.

For compensation of fifty four keepers of stations at $200 each, 10,800.

For contingent expenses of the life saving stations on the coast of Long Island and New Jersey, twenty thousand dollars.

For hire of carts on the public grounds, one thousand and ninety-five dollars.

For purchase and repair of tools used in the public grounds, two hundred dollars.

For purchase of trees and tree-boxes, to replace, where necessary, such as have been planted by the United States, to whitewash tree-boxes and fences, and to repair pavements in front of the public grounds, three thousand dollars.

For annual repairs of the Capitol, water closets, public stables, water-pipes, pavements and other walks within the Capitol square, broken glass and locks, and for the protection of the building and keeping the main approaches to it unencumbered, six thousand dollars.

For annual repairs of the President's House and furniture, improvement of grounds, purchase of plants, for garden and contingent expenses incident thereto, five thousand dollars.

For fuel, in part, of the President's House, two thousand four hundred dollars.

For lighting the Capitol and President's House, public grounds around them, and around the Executive offices, and the Pennsylvania avenue Bridge and High streets in Georgetown, Four and a half street, Seventh and Twelfth streets across the mall, fifty thousand dollars.

For additional fixtures and lighting and repairing the Building and footways of the custom house and post office in Georgetown, in the District of Columbia, two hundred and fifty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For purchase of books for library at the Executive Mansion, to be expended under the direction of the President of the United States, two hundred and fifty dollars.

For repairs of the Potomac, Navy Yard and Upper Bridges, and the roads appurtenant thereto, six thousand dollars.

For repairs of Pennsylvania avenue, and watering the same, ten thousand dollars.

For public reservation number two and Lafayette square, two thousand dollars.

For taking care of the grounds south of the President's House, and keeping them in order, one thousand dollars.

For repairs of water-pipes, five hundred dollars.

For clearing out the sewer traps on Pennsylvania avenue, and repairing the same three hundred dollars.

For repairs of all the furnaces of the Capitol, five hundred dollars.

For repairing Delaware avenue, north of C street north, one thousand dollars.

For paying one half of the expenses of sewer traps at the intersection of Fourth street west with E street north, two hundred dollars.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

Now, fling out the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue
With its stars all [illegible] Union unbroken and true
[illegible] Mil ye sons of the brave
[illegible] the banner your valor must save

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 18, 1862.

Sift them Out!

It is now well understood that the "Knights of the Golden Circle" in some of the loyal States becoming satisfied that they could do nothing for the rebellion, sought and obtained positions in the Union armies where they believed they could best accomplish their purposes. To help themselves forward in this object, they became suddenly intensified with love for the Union, hatred of rebellion, and the necessity of crushing it out of existence. These men as fast as they can be are sent from the army.

This is right, and there is a further duty resting upon Government: it is to refuse admission into our armies, in responsible positions, of those who have sympathized with rebellion—who have constantly denounced the Government—denounced the adoption of the very measures absolutely necessary for its salvation. Such men have no place in Government offices—whether in civil or military employment. They were for breaking down the Government by the only means they dared to sustain—the binding of its limbs and casting it at the feet of Jeff Davis. There are such men who have the insufferable impudence to ask for the patronage of the Government! The Government and every true Union man in it should say, NAY!

Striking Portrait!

Rev. Dr. Brownlow, of East Tennessee, in a letter to a committee of citizens of Louisville asking him to address them on the subject of this infernal rebellion, incidentally draws a striking portrait of secessionists in Oregon and Washington Territory. He says:

"I am required to return to Washington. * * * But gentlemen, I congratulate you, and all true men in our country, upon the certain prospect of overthrowing these vile rebels and closing out their infernal raid against law, order and religion. The exceeding sinfulness of sin that inaugurated this rebellion is rapidly bringing it to a close.—The plotters of the infamous treason must and will go to the wall, and that before long. God grant them a speedy exit from their present disgraceful attitude to one more infinitely infernal and disreputable!

I have canvassed New England, and spoken, perhaps, to more than fifty thousand persons. The Northern mind is all right on the subject of the war, and while the people are not at all maliciously disposed toward the South they are bent upon crushing out this rebellion and preserving the Union, if it shall cost all the money and lives on both sides of the line! True, I found in New Jersey, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Massachusetts as well as in Pennsylvania, a set of miserable sympathizers with the rebellion—generally of the late Breckinridge party, but the miserable traitors lack the moral and physical courage to avow publicly their wicked and unpatriotic purpose. The loyal Union loving people are everywhere marking these unpatriotic miscreants, and a fearful retribution awaits them. Let them, in all sections, be remembered as a disbanded incarnation of the spirit of disorganization, deluded by the devil, and led captive by his more immediate representatives in the civil and military departments of their rotten Government."

Well said! The "miserable sympathizers with the rebellion generally belong to the late Breckinridge party," but except when excited and off their guard, the traitors lack the moral and physical courage to avow publicly their wicked and unpatriotic purpose. They are and have been marked by a loyal people, and a just retribution is upon them. We say with Brownlow "LET THEM BE REMEMBERED."

A SOUTHERN UNION MAN vs. A NORTHERN [illegible].—One drop of ink used at the right time might have saved this country from civil war. But the Republican party in Congress refused to use it. They preferred to shed the blood of thousands of their fellow citizens and sacrifice their lives, and to impose a burden which remote posterity will feel as an [illegible].—Dubuque (Iowa) Herald.

We are astonished that any editor should have effrontery enough to assert such a thing in direct opposition not only to all probability and to the avowals of rebel leaders themselves, but in flagrant opposition to the record. The nation committed an unpardonable offense against the cotton oligarchy by defeating their candidate in 1860, and expelling them from office. The fire-eaters seceded then, for their creed was "rule or ruin." We have repeatedly proved that six Southern Senators are responsible for the defeat of the Crittenden amendment. And few we suppose since recent developments, believe that even the adoption of the Crittenden Compromise would have contented the rebels as [illegible] them until they would not submit to Lincoln, although they might be allowed to dictate their own terms on blank paper. It is gross stupidity or gross ignorance, or gross want of candor, to deny that the Southern leaders were the chief men in fomenting the rebellion.—Nashville Union.

MOBILE HARBOR OBSTRUCTED.—The Louisville [illegible] learns that before Commodore Farragut can capture Mobile he must raise a lot of sunken hulks loaded with rock, which the [illegible] rebels of Southern Alabama have for six months been industriously using to obstruct the channel below the city. He must also remove a heavy obstruction and destroy a powerful battery which the rebels have for nearly two months been constructing at a place called Chickahominy Bluffs below Selma. He must also destroy obstructions and batteries at several other points on the Alabama before his gunboats can command Selma or Montgomery.

Gen. Banks [illegible] through at the whole [illegible] falling the troops [illegible] slightly [illegible] though [illegible] overpowered.

Among the killed are Major Cook of the 28th New York and Lieut. Col. Stone of the 10th Connecticut. Among the wounded and missing are Col. Knight, Adjutant Boyd and Major Mathews of the 46th Pennsylvania, Col. Donnelly and Lieut. Col. Brown of the 28th New York, and Col. Chapman and Maj. Blake of the 5th Connecticut. Gen. Banks was severely hurt by the cavalry running against him. Col. Ruggles, Chief of Pope's Staff, had a horse shot under him. Two of Pope's body guard were killed. The 2d Massachusetts was in the hottest of the fight and suffered severely.

The 5th Connecticut, 27th Illinois and 4th Pennsylvania Regiments were also badly cut up.

The rebel General Winder was wounded. The loss on both sides is very heavy, not less than [illegible] thousand killed, wounded and missing on each side. Some prisoners were taken by Ewell and Jackson.

Gens. Price, Hunter and Early are reported wounded.

From Florence City.

We have been again favored with the privilege of taking the following extracts from a private letter written by an intelligent gentleman from Florence City, who has found in this city under date of August 2d, 1862:

On yesterday I received information sufficiently reliable to induce me to prepare for a trip over the Salmon river, but owing to unforeseen [illegible] present [illegible] from leaving. However I [illegible] assisted in fitting out [illegible] my place. The report [illegible] thus:—That a party [illegible] prospecting had struck [illegible] from thirty to sixty miles [illegible] Salmon river, some of whom have returned for provisions, &c., and are leaving again [illegible] get what they want. Many are going there daily and it is said [illegible] good [illegible] For myself I should [illegible] in going [illegible] with faith in what I have heard. A Story of To-Day.

"Thirty five dollars a month, I was told was the usual wages."

"Thirty-five dollars!" and Mrs Smith raised her eyes in surprise, "why you must mean twenty five dollars, that is the highest wages I ever paid," she exclaimed And Mrs Smith smiled, for she had heard the boy say that the woman had just arrived, and she was one of those ladies opposed to high wages for servants.

"I suppose it must be twenty five then," said the woman timidly "I do not know what wages are paid here for help, I only arrived yesterday."

"I can assure you, Bridget, that twenty five dollars a month is good wages, and if that will do you, why—I'll try you."

Bridget Mrs Smith had called her—and as Mrs Smith had called every girl and woman of the fifty she had had Bridget's first duty was to wash and dress little Ed and Kate, and somehow or other, the children were made to look unusually neat that morning; Bridget's eyes were red, as if from weeping, and Ed and Kate each had a valuable story to tell their mother, an hour afterward, how "the new woman had kissed them and hugged them most to pieces."

When Mr Smith returned to dinner that evening, he was agreeably surprised to find the house in unusually good order Mrs Smith was in cheerful spirits, for she had found less to do about the house that day than she had for a long time before Bridget seemed to be ahead of her in every thing and to anticipate her wants The children minded her as if by instinct, and Mr Smith declared that if Bridget was as good every day in producing comfort in the household as she was on the first day of her introduction, he would not part with her for twice her wages.

Two months rolled around and Mrs Smith began to be uneasy in her new situation, for she had no occasion to direct or superintend the affairs of her household, and having less cause for complaint, she became irritable and nervous. One day there had been an unusual number of visitors, and whatever went wrong in the parlor that raised Mrs. Smith's ire, was visited upon the head of the unoffending Bridget

"Husband," was Mrs. Smith's ejaculation of complaint, as soon as Smith entered that evening. "To-morrow morning when you go down town, leave a note at the intelligence office, and tell them to send me another woman. Bridget was quite impudent and saucy to-day, and I will not put up with a servant's impudence."

"But, wife," was Smith's remonstrance, "I thought that Bridget was the chief par excellence of housemaids, and I think you said—"

"Mr. Smith, I know what a servant should be, and I do not want you to tell me," she exclaimed

"Yes, yes, I have no doubt you do," and Smith balanced the soup plate upon his finger, as if in the act of washing it, and Mrs Smith's face blushed as red as scarlet.

"Mr. Smith," she exclaimed—and sunk back unable to articulate more—and just then Bridget entered and cut short her accumulating words.

The twilight of evening had come, and the sitting room was lighted. Mr. Smith took out his portfolio, rang the bell, and Bridget entered the room.

"Bridget," said Mr. Smith, "I am sorry, but Mrs Smith says she will dispense with your services after to-morrow You have been here two months—I wish I could say two years—and I am sorry to part with you Sign this receipt, and here is a bonus with your wages" And he placed a package of coin by the side of the paper.

Bridget took up the pen and in a neat hand wrote "Frances Depue."

Mr Smith took up the receipt, glanced at the name, and then walked across the room and held the paper before his wife "Mrs. Smith," said he, "her name is Frances—not Bridget" A blush suffused Mrs Smith's face

"Frances, what State are you from?" inquired Mrs. Smith, as the woman was leaving the room.

"Massachusetts," she replied

"What part?"

"Lowell"

"Was you acquainted with Mr. Robert Depue's family? They have the same name as yourself," eagerly inquired Mrs Smith

"Yes; quite well," she answered, very quietly

"And is the old gentleman still living?" Mrs Smith earnestly asked, and continued, "I have not heard from there for a long time"

"No, he has been dead almost one year," she replied, with a sigh

"Dead! Poor old man!" Mrs Smith exclaimed, and she brushed a tear from her cheek, "Tell me, Frances, all you know about him and his death, and I will be thankful to you for it"

"I suppose his death was like that of many other poor old men," she began, and continued, as a sad expression stole over her face "The old gentleman had two daughters. The youngest got married and emigrated to St Louis with her husband, leaving the eldest at home with the father Finally, she too, got married, and, like her youngest sister, emigrated to the west with her husband, and left the old gentleman alone, and I believe he never heard from her afterward—only through strangers I heard they came to California, and it was said that her husband, a Mr. Smith, was rich"

"Frances, hasten your recital," exclaimed Mrs Smith impatiently, "and tell me about Mr Depue's death"

"The tale is a short one, Madam," Frances replied—and she gave Mrs Smith a look that made her tremble, "The old gentleman was left alone to the tender mercies of strangers A long sickness followed, and exhausted his once competent means, for in the absence of those who should have been at his bedside, there was no one to take care of his affairs After all was gone they mercifully sent the old gentleman to the alms house"

"Oh, my God! and he died there?" exclaimed Mrs Smith, between the choking sobs that escaped from her lips

"Oh, no, he did not die there," Frances replied "for his youngest daughter returned. She buried her husband at St Louis, and after gathering together his estate, she turned her footsteps to her father's house. The misfortune of her only parent and friend was another sad blow to her; but she provided a home for him, and for nearly a year she nursed and watched over him, and on his death bed received his last blessing in reward for her dutiful conduct He is buried by the side of his wife in the old burying ground" Frances grew pale at the recital and tears fell, as did those of her listener

"Ah! then my poor old father is dead," exclaimed Mrs Smith, "and Ella, my sister, where is she?"

"She remained in Lowell for some time after her father's death, expecting to hear from her sister Elizabeth, to whom she had often written without receiving any reply. She finally concluded to come to California. She arrived here two months ago, and by a strange fatality was introduced into her sister's house as a servant where she has been ever since"

Her words were spoken so calmly that Mrs Smith was startled "How could this be, and I not know you? Ah, Ella Frances, my sister" exclaimed Mrs Smith, as she extended her arms to embrace her. But Frances quickly prevented her from doing so as she replied "No, Elizabeth, I came here as your servant, as such you have treated me, and as such I will leave"

It was a terrible lesson to Mrs. Smith, and she will never forget it Ella Frances Depue W—— was soon after married to a merchant who knew her at St Louis, and appreciated her worth, and now mistress of a home equal in wealth to her sister's, and more replete with happiness

With the exception of names, this "Story of To-Day," is true, and the actors need not blush at its recital, for this is but one of the many that are stranger than fiction. —Golden Era

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder Mercurial Rheumatism Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots flying before the eyes, Loss of Sight Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases and should be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the diseases, but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter ulcers eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes throat and lungs entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years' practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR L J CZAPKAY Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the range of disease, who, having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public The desire of secrecy impetuously command their publicity and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate—The undersigned desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay for the permanent recovery of my health Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but, alas after a few weeks, and in several instances, months of their treatment I found to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health strength, and energy; and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope called upon Dr Czapkay, who, after examining my case prescribed some medicines which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head Encouraged by the result I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice my head became clear and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins the weakness of my limbs the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm, excitement the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected. MARYSVILLE, June 2d, 1854

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks to-day my recollect, since I called at your Institute, with my prostitution as I thought, but been entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and troubled at everything Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the sallow complexion of those missions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured If you think anybody will be benefited by it you may put this letter in the newspapers Be inscribe gratefully yours THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also About two years ago I suddenly and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon the medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then induced to be here) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning and although insensible to the agonies, I yet deplored the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I was there was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation called upon Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed
